This is a fun barbecue place. Not quite the quaint atmosphere of Famous Dave's... Dinosaur Bar-B-Que is a down and dirty BBQ joint. They call themselves a "genuine honky tonk rib joint." I am not sure about the obsession with dinosaurs, but the setting was interesting! The wait for a seat was a bit long, especially for a weeknight, but the bar helped us pass the time. I had the Tres Hombre -- a combo including BBQ pork, Texas beef brisket, ribs and two homemade side dishes. It was quite yummy food and cost only $13 for a dinner portion that I could not come close to finishing! I am not sure I would recommend this place to a vegetarian or anyone trying to eat light, but it's great for the Atkins dieter.
